Happy July!

Wishing you a happy July! We hope you're enjoying the sunshine (and surviving the heat).

Enjoy this month's edition of the RaYnbow Review, complete with a queer media recommendation and a highlight on our successful art show last month The show, Beyond the Cosmos: LGBTQ at BYU, featured many beautiful pieces that showcased diverse parts of the experience of being queer at BYU.

We also enjoyed participating in many local pride celebrations and have been hard at work getting ready for our own Back to School Pride event in September.

Queer Media Recommendation

As a collective, and as young queer people, we love consuming queer media! We hope you'll enjoy these monthly recommendations, consisting of music, film, literature, and more, and featuring queer artists and stories, from us to you!

Nimona (available on Netflix) is a beautiful, touching, and hilarious film. It covers themes of dealing with not being accepted by society and systems of power. Queer themes abound, including undertones of transness and casual representation of gay romance.

"Nimona is a remarkable work of acceptance, growth, and community that is a marker of the strides an individual can take to love and appreciate the diversity the LGBTQ+ community can bring to our world. It's truly a masterpiece of beauty, astounding artwork, amazing acting, fun music, and a message of unity and hope for all."
